

Denies Ex-Mate's Charges

FREAK PET. No; it's only one representative of the simian family from which man is reputed by the Darwinites to descend, that Mrs. Helen Lucadema of Newark is shown with above. But the freak monk has two heads. He's called Twinnie.

SUSPECTED by ex-mate, William Weightman, 3d, impoverished millionaire, of persuading his latest bride, Nita, a Mexican girl, to leave him soon after marriage. Marie Campbell Weightman (above), his second wife, denies she had anything to do with the girl's disappearance. (Graphic.)

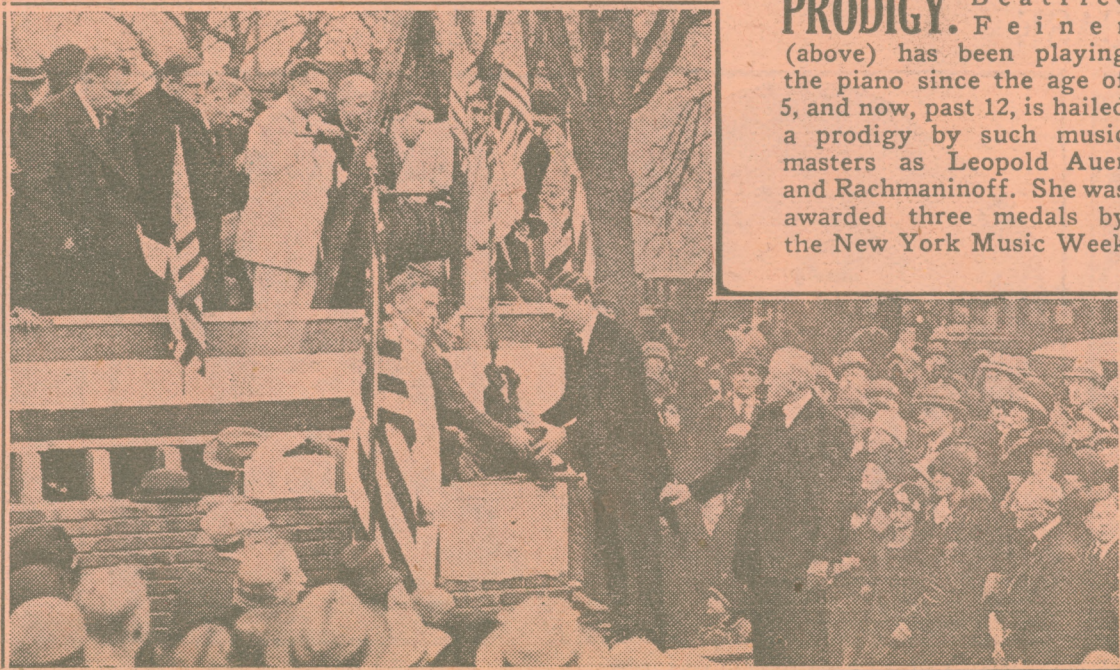

Man Dies, Wife Rescued in Fire

DIES IN FIRE. The fire which destroyed bungalow at New Dorp, Staten Island, killed Elmer Geering, 50, whose body was found near charred piano by firemen shown in photo above. Victim's wife was rescued by firemen. (Graphic.)

PRODIGY. Beatrice Feiner (above) has been playing the piano since the age of 5, and now, past 12, is hailed a prodigy by such music masters as Leopold Auer and Rachmaninoff. She was awarded three medals by the New York Music Week.

ASKS $100,000.

And that's little enough compensation for sprained leg and back that keep her from stage, according to Ruth Grace (above), Follies dancer, who's filed suit against the owners of Forrest Theater, in Philadelphia, as result of fall down stairs. (Graphic.)
